

Graduate Student MDPI Academic Publishing Workshop

“Tips for Writing Great Research Papers”

Dr. Sally Wu

Regional Journal Relations Specialist
MDPI - Multidisciplinary Digital Publishing Institute

MDPI

“Publication Ethics for Authors”

Drs. Sally Wu & Barnaby Crook

“AI in Publishing: Challenges and Opportunities”

Dr. Barnaby Crook

Regional Journal Relations Specialist
MDPI - Multidisciplinary Digital Publishing Institute

This seminar and workshop combines expert presentations with practical guidance on key aspects of academic publishing, including writing high-quality research papers, publication ethics from a publisher’s perspective, and the challenges and opportunities of AI in publishing.

In the first part of the workshop, participants will receive practical advice on essential aspects of writing academic articles. In the second part of the workshop, attendees will learn about publication ethics from a publisher’s perspective, including common ethical pitfalls and how to avoid them. In the final part of the workshop, participants will receive an introduction to contemporary issues around AI in publishing and learn how to use AI responsibly in their own research. Participants will leave with a clearer understanding of the academic publishing landscape and how to successfully contribute to it.

Thursday, February 5, 2026

Seminar Location: 8:30 – 9:30 am EST | Goergen Hall 101

Workshop Location: 9:40 – 11:00 am EST | Goergen Hall 102

Zoom Webinar ID: 970 5582 1926 Passcode: BME@UR

Zoom Webinar Link: <https://rochester.zoom.us/j/97055821926>

UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER, BIOMEDICAL ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

